

Stormy weather hampers build up to the BUSA/RYA Match Racing Qualifier Two

Eleven University teams are heading to Queen Mary Sailing Club this weekend (24-25 January) for the second of three qualifying weekends for the BUSA/RYA Match Racing Championship finals in April.

The event looked uncertain to go ahead on Thursday after stormy weather had damaged all six RYA J80s overnight. After a huge effort from the RYA bosuns the J80s have been repaired just in time for racing to begin tomorrow.

Leading the challenge for one of the three places going through to the finals will be London Universities Ben McVeigh-Whittaker, who performed well in the RYA National Match Racing Series 2008, narrowly missing out on a place to the finals.

Imperials team skippered by Connor Myant will also be looking for one of the top spots after coming fourth in qualifier 3 in 2008.

Full results will be posted on the BUSA website on Monday.
